

The management of EPIRSA. is aware of the importance of quality when satisfying the needs of its clients and other interested parties, as well as respect for the environment and is committed to implementing a Quality and Environmental Management System applied to continuous improvement, to reduce risks and achieve a high level of quality in its processes, facilities and services, as well as environmental performance, paying special attention to all parties involved.

This commitment is assumed and promoted by management, which assigns the human and material resources necessary to achieve it.

Our Commitments

With our customers, we are involved in their success, making their needs our own.

With our team, we promote diversity as a source of talent, creativity and experience and we integrate our commitment into the selection, development and participation systems. We provide a safe and healthy work environment, offer training and development and guarantee equal opportunities and non-discrimination on any basis.

With our suppliers, we maintain an open, fluid and transparent dialogue with our suppliers, promoting teamwork to ensure quality and supply management.

With society we are committed to contributing to its economic, social and cultural development, promoting education and science.

With the environment we are committed to protect the environment, preventing pollution and efficient use of natural resources, minimizing the production of waste and promoting its recycling, recovery and reuse. Likewise, measures will be implemented to mitigate and adapt to climate change, and protect biodiversity and ecosystems.

With public administrations at their different levels, collaborating fully in all their requirements, and complying with both legal requirements and other requirements that may be applicable.
